- 1) The terms and conditions of this contract;

Such causes will not relieve either party of liability in the event of its failure to use due diligence to remedy the situation and remove the cause in an adequate manner, with all reasonable dispatch, and to give notice and full particulars of the same in writing to the other party as soon as possible after the occurrence of the cause that prevented or delayed performance of the obligations. EXHIBIT 1 STATEMENT OF WORK

The ANP provider must operate all aspects of the ANP, including, but not limited to, creating or obtaining all necessary hardware, software, and licenses required by law, and ensuring all requirements described in PUC Substantive Rule 26.424 are met. The ANP provider will be responsible for operating and maintaining the ANP throughout the term of the resulting contract with the PUCT.

Requirements

- 1) Program Components: The ANP must provide visually impaired users access and usability to local, regional, and national newspapers similar to the access and usability sighted users have when sighted users visually read the newspapers through a software program that accepts electronic text provided by local, regional, or national newspapers and converts the electronic text to synthetic speech. Registered blind and visually impaired users ("Registered Users") must be able to access such converted synthetic speech twenty-four hours a day, seven days a week by using a touch-tone telephone to reach the ANP's local number or the ANP's nationwide toll-free number where local access is not available. The ANP provider must control access to the ANP program by requiring Registered Users to enter a personal identification number. The system must be operational 99% of the time or more. PUCT staff will periodically test to ensure the system is operational.
- 2) Call Features: The ANP provider must convert all text from participating newspapers into synthetic speech and make such converted speech available to Registered Users. The ANP must have a variety of menu choices and navigation features that help users navigate through menu items or articles. The ANP must be flexible and interactive enough to provide a variety of voice selections (minimum of 5) with adjustable speaking rates, commands for obtaining help, searching text, and spelling text. users must be able to interrupt the presentation and return to the information being read when the help, search, or spell command is activated. During business hours, users must be able to speak with a customer service representative through the navigation system. Proposers must identify their business hours in their proposals. PUCT staff will periodically test to ensure that all call features are operational. Call features must be operational 99% of the time or more.
- 3) Content and Content Acquisition: The ANP provider will be responsible for acquiring and updating all content. The ANP provider must provide access to the content of at least ten Texas newspapers and any national newspapers the ANP provider has access to. Where available, the ANP provider must provide access to both English and Spanish language versions of the newspapers. In addition, the ANP provider must attempt to acquire and include television program listings and job placement ads in the ANP. Please note that newspapers participating in the ANP Program are not eligible for payment.

- 4) Registration and Records Retention: The ANP provider must provide the following methods for eligible users to register for the ANP: by U.S. mail, by fax, by phone call to a toll free telephone number, and through a website. For each Registered User, the ANP must retain copies of all documents produced to the ANP to provide evidence that the user satisfies the eligibility requirements and the Registered User's contact information. Contractor must comply with Section 2.5 of this contract with regard to retention of documents collected under this provision.
- 5) Marketing Plan: The ANP provider must create and follow a detailed 4-year marketing plan to increase participation.
- 6) Additional Information: Upon termination of the contract, if the current ANP provider will not be continuing to provide the ANP under a new contract, the ANP provider must transfer all existing agreements to provide periodicals in electronic format for synthetic voice conversion to the entity that will be providing the ANP in the future effective on the date the new contract is executed.

Deliverables

- 1) Monthly Reporting
 - Due no later than the 15th of the month after the month that the Services were performed
 - The monthly report must include a contractual attestation affirming that the system, including all call features, was operational 99% of the time in the previous month, if true. If the system or any call feature was operational for less than 99% of the time, the monthly report must state what percentage of the time the system, including all call features, was operational and provide a reason why it was operational less than 99% of the time. This explanation does not excuse contractor's failure to meet the requirement that the system will be available 99% of the time. If the system is not operational with all required call features 99% of the time, the PUCT will reduce the monthly payment by an amount proportional to the time the system was not operational. For example, if the system is non-operational 5% of the time, the PUCT will reduce the monthly payment by 5%. The PUCT may also choose to follow the termination procedures in Article 6 of this contract.
 - The ANP provider must submit a monthly usage report consisting of the number of registered users, the number of registered users who used the ANP each month, and the total number of minutes the ANP has been used each month.
 - The ANP provider must report monthly on any marketing efforts, including, but not limited to a listing of conferences, meetings, and trainings attended, the number of attendees at each event, and the number of people who signed up for the service while attending the meeting or training.
- 2) Quarterly Reporting (September – November, December – February, March – May, June – August)

- Due no later than the 15th of the month after the quarter that the report encompasses
- The ANP provider must submit a quarterly marketing report updating the PUCT on the ANP provider's progress toward the proposed 4-year marketing plan.

3) Annual Reporting

The ANP provider must submit an annual content acquisition report due on January 31st of each year listing:

- newspapers added to the ANP in the previous fiscal year;
- the newspapers the ANP provider has attempted, but failed to add to the ANP (including for each: the date(s) the ANP provider contacted the newspaper, the method of contact, and reason the newspaper was added to the ANP); and
- the newspapers that the ANP provider stopped providing in the previous year (including for each: the date and reason the ANP stopped providing the newspaper).

4) Additional Reporting

The PUCT may require additional reporting as necessary or desirable.

In WITNESS WHEREOF both parties by their duly authorized representatives have executed this contract effective as of September 1, 2018.
